

Special Invitation

■ Chairman
AMBASSADOR OLUSEGUN OLUSOLA
Former Nigeria Ambassador to Ethiopia

■ Special Guest of Honour
DR. LEKE PITAN
Commissioner for Education, Lagos State

■ Special Guest
ELIZABETH IKEM
Provost, Nigerian Institute of Journalism

■ Host
Dave Ohiorhenuan
Dean, School of Art, Design & Printing, Yaba College of Technology

With Honour _____
the school of Art, Design & Printing
Yaba College of Technology

Invites you to the

PHOTO EXHIBITION
of

Akintunde Akin Leye

THEME

"Pieces of the BROKEN LENS"

Venue: SADP Gallery, Yusuf Grillo Art Complex,

Date: January 26 - February 9, 2007

Time: Opening Ceremony and Discussions
Friday January 26, 2007 at 3.30pm

George Osodi 08034030364 (AP)

Kingsley Igwe 08033122086 (Reuters)

George Esiri 08033238490 (Reuters)

Kunle Ajayi 08082477072 (Daily Independent)

R.S.V.P

For Support Details: Contact Adetoun Adebogun 08062268949
16, Adeyemi Lawson Street, Ikoyi, Lagos.

Akintunde Akinleye, 36, Works for Reuters News agency and attended the University of Lagos and Nigerian institute of journalism for his Masters of education degree and post-graduate diploma in Journalism respectively.

In August 2003, while running a coverage for Daily Independent at the Installation of Oba of Lagos, Rilwan Akiolu I, he was beaten dead, by the police for daring to photographed the Vice-President Atiku Abubakar. Several Months after, Akintunde - a laureate of Wole Soyinka investigative reporting award, picked the "Pieces of the Broken Lens" and creates images that had been widely sought in many International Magazines and Journals.

With some of these images exhibiting at the School of Art, Design and Printing, SADP Gallery, Yaba College of Technology from Friday January 26 to Friday February 9, 2007, Akintunde shares his experiences as a Journalist and a "Street Photographer".

