

The Silent Majority Project

GOETHE
INSTITUT

Goethe-Institut Nigeria cordially invites you to the opening of the exhibition:

"The Silent Majority Project"

Opening: Saturday, 2nd March 2013 at 4 PM

Venue: Apollo, Makoko - Yaba, Lagos, Nigeria.

Shuttle boats would convey guests from Apollo, Makoko to the Exhibition

In 2010, Adolphus Opara and Olusola Otori started a project titled "The Silent Majority Project".

The aim of the project is to positively affect the lives of people in their own environment through arts and photography. Workshops were held in Makoko and the outcome of the workshops would be showcased to the public for the first time in an exhibition within the Makoko community.

Photographs by: Monday Asokoro, Mary Awajinumi, Peter Onge and Suliaman Afose.
